

ABSTRACT:

In a magnetic data storage system or a magnetic sensing system including a GMR-structure, a set of structures is introduced that influences an intrinsic magnetic or magneto resistance characteristic such as the field-offset of the GMR- structure. The set of structures is separated from the GMR- structure by a high-resistive metallic material such as 5 Ta.

Fig. 1